Preface

Since 1962, the most basic education statistical projects in the field of education have been implemented, and education statistics have continued to evolve as the times change. The basic education statistics are essential objective indicators for comprehensively understanding the current status of Korean education and implementing effective education policies.

With the national legitimacy and social needs, Korean Educational Development Institute(KEDI) conducts a full survey of institutions, students, teachers, finance, and facilities, etc. every year, including schools of all education levels, the education office, and the district offices of education. Also, we participates in the international education indicator projects which calculates various international indicators using the results of the survey.

Based on the statistical data produced through these projects, various forms of educational statistics are provided to domestic and international statistical users.

Also, related statutes for implementing educational statistical surveys were enacted in 2017 and the Education Statistics Research Center of KEDI was designated as a 'National Education Statistics Center' to provide a foundation for the development of education statistics.
'Brief Statistics on Korean Education' is a collection of data published annually based on the basic statistics survey of education and international statistics, which is organized to provide a comprehensive view of the educational status through general information and key indicators at each level of education. Chapters 1 is about an overall of each educational level, Chapter 2 and 3 present the current status of education in pre-primary, primary, secondary, and higher education institutions respectively. Chapter 4 compares Korean educational status with those of major OECD countries, and Chapter 5 shows major status such as education budget, overseas Korean, and civil servants' quota.

We hope this data collection will be widely used as a basic material for comprehensive understanding of the current status of education and development of education in Korea, and we would like to thank all the officials of the Ministry of Education and related institutions and the staff of the Education Statistics Center in KEDI for their active support in publishing this data collection.

Introductery Remarks

Statistics are collected for the reference date 1 April 2019.
(2) The schools to be surveyed are those established by the Early Childhood Education Act, the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, and the Higher Education Act.
(3) The institutions of higher education include schools based on special laws and the establishment of other ministries.

- 5 universities(Institute of Science and Technology Act), 1 Junior College(Act on the Establishment of Korea National College of Agriculture and Fisheries), Specialized Colleges, Distance Universities, Colleges in the companies(Lifelong Education Act), Polytechnic Colleges(Act on the Development of Vocational Skills of Workers), and 3 Graduate School Colleges.
※ 'Lifelong education facilities in the forms of Distance Universities' are abbreviated as 'Distance University' and 'Lifelong education facilities in the forms of Colleges in the companies' as 'College in the company'
(4) Pre-primary, Primary and Secondary Education institutions include Kindergartens, Elementary schools, Middle schools, High schools, Special schools, Civic High schools, Trade High schools, Miscellaneous schools, Open middle and high schools.(Civic schools are not in operation since 2012.)
(5) Since the type of high school was reformed in June 2010, high schools are classified as general and vocational schools before 2011, but from 2011, as general, special-purposed, specialized, and autonomous high schools.
- Air Force Aviation Science High school is in operation as Meister High school, but excluded from the survey as the reason for national defence and public security.
(6) Tertiary education institutions include Universities, Universities of Education, Industrial Universities, Air&Corr. Universities, Technical Universities, Miscellaneous Schools, Lifelong education facilities in the forms of Distance University, Cyber Universities, Lifelong education facilities in the forms of College in the company, Polytechnic Colleges, Specialized Colleges.
(7) Technical colleges provide both junior college course and undergraduate course and the result of survey presents separately. (The number of schools is only counted in the undergraduate course.) Since the regulation on Cyber universities' establishment was reformed in 2008, there are Distance Universities(Lifelong Education Act) which are turned into Cyber Universities.
(8) Miscellaneous Schools in tertiary level are only offering undergraduate course since 2017. (Junior college course is not in operation.)
(9) The number of students in Tertiary education represents students on the register including those on leave of absence, and those in the grace period also are investigated since 2019 by Higher Education Act Article 23(5). The number of graduates represents who graduate in February of a given year and in August of the previous year.
(10) The number of teachers is based on the following criteria:
- The number of teachers at primary and secondary education institutions includes full-time and part-time teachers(including those on leave of absence), but not retired or temporary lecturers . By position, the principal, vice principal, head teacher, assigned teacher, special education teacher, professional counselor, librarian, practical education teacher, school nurse, and nutrition teacher are included.
- The number of teachers in Tertiary education institutions is presidents(deans) and full-time teaching staffs(professors, associate professors, assistant professors, and full-time lecturers), including those on leave of absence. The national and public universities include professors funded by private sources who meet the requirements of full-time faculty members. After the abolition of full-time lecturer in 2013, full-time teaching staffs are classified as professors, associate professors, and assistant professors.

Introductery Remarks

(11) In accordance with the International Standard Classification of Education (ISCED), Korean education system is classified as follows. However, for convenience, the terms of Elementary school course(for Primary education), Secondary school course(for Lower and upper secondary education), and Tertiary education course(for Tertiary education) are used at times.
ISCED 0 Early Childhood Education

- Kindergarten, Childcare center, Special school(Kindergarten course, Early childhood educational development)
ISCED 1 Primary Education
- Elementary school, Special school and Miscellaneous school(Elementary school course), Civic school
ISCED 2 Lower Secondary Education

B. Advancement Rates

Advancement Rates by Level of Education by Year

Note 1_Advancement Rates(\%) = (Advanced among graduates in a given year/Graduates in a given year) $\times 100$
2_Advancement Rates are rounded off to two decimal places, $100.0 \%$ of Advancement Rates from Elementary School to Middle School Course is an approximate value
3_Middle school course : middle schools and other schools equivalent to middle school
4_ High school course : high schools and other schools equivalent to high school
5_High school graduates : Students who have graduated after 2014 are graduates of the amended high school types(in 2011).
6_Tertiary course advancement includes junior college, university, industrial university, university of education, air&corr.university, technical college and miscellaneous school(from 2005, outbound internationally mobile students are included)
7_Advanced students(High School $\rightarrow$ Tertiary Courses): Advanced students into tertiary courses as of 1st April of the reference year(Source: Pre-primary, Primary and Secondary Education Statistics)

C. Employment Rates

Employment Rates by Level of Education by Year

Note 1_Employment rate of High school = \{Employed among graduates in a given year / (Graduates - Advanced(to higher level of education) - Enlisted) $\times 100$
2_High school graduates: Types of high school are revised since 2011, and it has been applied for graduates since 2014.
3_Students entering higher education institutions after graduate high school (Advanced): Students entering higher education institutions in a given year(for the reference date 1 April)(Source : Pre-primary, primary and secondary education statistics, since 2011)

- *: High school graduates among new entrants into tertiary education institutions in March of a given year.(Source: Higher Education Statistics)
- ( ): Students who go on to higher education in February of a given year(Source: Pre-primary, primary and secondary education statistics, before 2010)
4_The employment statistics survey of higher education institutions were conducted from 2004. The scope and criteria of survey has differed as 1)Universities' own investigation to 2009(as of 1 April), 2)survey linked to health insurance database in 2010(as of 1 June 2010), and 3)survey linked to health insurance and national tax database since 2011(as of 31st December).
5_ Employment rates of Higher education graduates $=($ Employed $/$ Graduates who are expected to employed $) \times 100$

| Employed | Until 2009 | Permanent Full-time+Temporary Full-time+Self-employed |

Note 1_Expenditure on educational institutions as a percentage of GDP $=$ [(expenditure from public sources + private sources + international sources)/GDP $* 100$

- The calculation criteria has changed to include international sources since EAG 2018, and rounding-off may differ from simple sum (public sources and private sources).
2 -Data refer to the financial year. Years in parentheses are the years of EAG(Education at a Glance) released.
3- For the information of educational programmes for each educational level, refer to the introductory remarks.
4_Since EAG 2018, final source of funds-expenditure after transfers from government to private sectorsare included in private sources(for financial year 2016, $0.03 \%$ of GDP for primary and secondary education and $0.29 \%$ of GDP for tertiary education).
- Until EAG 2017, the figures in above table are initial funds-before transfers between government and private sectors- since final source of expenditure are not published until then.
※ Examples of transfers from govemment to private sectors : scholarships for students, financial aid to households, etc.
5_In Korea, 6.8 trillion won of carry-over and reserve from the previous year(about $0.4 \%$ of GDP, mostly from public sources) are excluded from expenditure in early childhood, primary and secondary education since EAG 2019. In case of tertiary education, since EAG 2018.
6 - The amount of expenditure which cannot be distinguished by educational level is divided by quota and included in each educational level since EAG 2017.
- Korea's data of 2010 financial year is calculated by KEDI for time-series analysis.

7_GDP of Korea: 522 trillion won in 2000, 811 in 2005, 1,173 in 2010, 1,486 in 2014, 1,564 in 2015 and 1,642 in 2016(Data refer to the financial year, in trillions of local currency).
